WILL APPOINT COUNSEL FOR RED COURIER

Federal Judge Declares Harry Gold Will Plead Guilty to Permitting Atom Leak

STILL HELD IN JAIL

Philadelphia, June 1—(P)—A federal judge will appoint counsel, perhaps today, for Harry Gold, who said yesterday he will plead guilty to being a courier in Soviet-Russia's atom spy network.

But the small, chubby research chemist, 39 years old, asked the judge to find an attorney who would back him, in denying that he is guilty of intending to harm the United States. Gold said he wants a lawyer who will let him cooperate with the FBI.

Looking worried and with his head held low, Gold was brought yesterday under heavy guard to the chambers of U. S. District Judge James E. McGranery. It was McGranery who placed Gold under $100,000 bond on May 23, when FBI agents arrested him as the link between the convicted British atomic spy, Klaus Fuchs, and Soviet operatives.

Fuchs is serving a 14-year term in Britain after confessing that he passed on information gained as a member of the British team which helped develop the atomic bomb in the United States.

After a 10-minute conference, the judge disclosed that Gold told him he would plead guilty "to acting as a courier for a Russian atom spy ring" and asked the court to appoint counsel for him.

Judge McGranery quoted Gold as saying, however, "he is not guilty of that part of the charge which says he intended to harm the United States government."

"I told him," the jurist said, (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Brockway Tragedy Caused By Jealousy

Brockway, June 1—(P)—For a year Mrs. Weilecher, 43, and her husband Raymond, 45, a Pennsylvania Railroad, quarreled over his charges she was unfaithful. Police Chief Steve Rendos reports.

The argument came up again at breakfast yesterday and Mrs. Weilecher ordered her husband out of the house.

Chief Rendos said Weilecher walked four miles to his parents' home, got his .30-30 caliber deer rifle and returned.

Mrs. Weilecher saw him coming up the road, barricaded the doors and huddled in terror with their two daughters, Ronald, 14, and Mrs. Jean Smith 21.

Later, while the older daughter was phoning police at a neighbor's home, she heard a shot. She started back home. There was another shot, and another.

Mrs. Weilecher was found fatally shot on the basement floor. Her husband's body was on the floor beside her. The police chief said Weilecher had killed his wife, then shot himself in the mouth.

The husband had stalked his wife through the house before killing her, the police chief said.

SCRAP PRICES SOAR

Pittsburgh, June 1—(P)—Scrap steel has reached its highest price in the last 18 months. No. 1 heavy melting scrap moved up $3 to $42 a ton yesterday. A Pittsburgh district mill paid that price for a medium sized tonnage and also bought a quantity of No. 2 heavy melting scrap for $36 a ton, a rise of $2 to $3.

Secretary of Welfare Plans A Visit Here to Discuss State Hospital Building Program

William C. Brown, state secretary of welfare, is scheduled to come to Warren on Tuesday, June 13, for a general inspection of State Hospital facilities and for a conference with the Board of Trustees on a long-range building program for the hospital.

The proposed construction work is in addition to the nearly $2,000,000 construction work already under way or authorized to start soon.

Nine Killed, Two Injured In Crash At Naval Air Base

Quonset, R. I., June 1—(P)—Nine men were killed and two injured in the crash of a navy plane today at the Quonset Naval Air Base.

Nine men were burned to death when a patrol plane crashed and burned on a runway, the Navy said.

Commander Glasgow of the public information office reported the pilot and co-pilot escaped with only minor injuries. The remainder of the crew was trapped in the wreckage.

The Navy public information office in Boston reported that the big Neptune bomber, found for Argentina took off with nine passengers, a pilot and a co-pilot and that 23 minutes after the takeoff, it returned with one engine afire and dead.

The pilot said the plane developed engine trouble and that one engine burst into flames when nearing Quonset.

The plane was reported en route from Jacksonville, Fla., to Newfoundland.

The pilot attempted an emergency landing in what was described as limited visibility.

The Navy reported the plane was caught in a cross wind in landing and was tipped over on its back.

The pilot and co-pilot were pulled out alive.

The passengers could not be saved. An hour after the crash, the wreckage was still too hot to probe.

The navy said it was not immediately known whether all the passengers were navy personnel.

Identification of the dead will be withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Change In Name Softens Opposition To Proposed New Federal Health Bureau

Washington, June 1—(P)—President Truman's change in the name softened senate opposition today to a proposed new government department of health, education and security.

However, the probability that Oscar R. Ewing would become the first secretary of such a department revived some of the opposition which killed a similar reorganization plan last year.

At that time, Mr. Truman proposed a new department of welfare. Opponents clubbed it down in a 60 to 32 senate vote last August 16.

largely on the grounds that it would give too much power to Ewing, the federal security administrator.

Ewing's support of the president's proposal for compulsory health insurance was a focal point in that fight and remains a sore spot among critics now.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark), who attacked last year's plan on the grounds that it seemed to open the way for what he called "socialized medicine," said the new proposal looks satisfactory to him on that point.

McClellan heads the senate expenditures committee which will hold hearings if any resolution disapproving the new plan is offered. A majority of the full membership of either house can kill a reorganization plan.

Taxi Driver Fights Allegedly Mad Dog

Atlanta, June 1—(P)—A taxicab driver, father of five children, wrestled with an apparently mad dog yesterday to save a group of 32 terrified kindergarten pupils.

"Any man with kids of his own would have done exactly what I did," said 28-year-old Rick Parker, shrugging off his act of bravery.

Parker spotted the dog, running wildly and foaming at the mouth, as he drove past the school. Class— (Turn to Page Fourteen)

DEFIANT JAP REDS ORDER A TOKYO STRIKE

Tokyo, June 1—(P)—Openly defiant, Japan's Communist party today ordered a general strike Saturday in reprisal for the occupation's rush trial of eight Japanese accused of kicking and stoning American soldiers.

The strike call promised to bring to a head growing tension between General MacArthur's occupation and the belligerent Communists.

This tension, fueled by recent international Communist charges that the Japanese Reds were too docile, erupted Memorial Day in the first physical violence of the occupation against U. S. troops.

A captain and four enlisted men, observers at a Communist anti-American rally in downtown Imperial Plaza, were kicked, beaten and stoned. Only a few hours earlier, authorities had expelled the Communists from the plaza to permit Americans to hold Memorial Day services for their war dead, including those who fell in the Pacific conflict against Japan.

MacArthur in a May 2 speech urged the Japanese to defend their new constitutional liberties against the "international political perfidy" of Communism. He suggested the possibility of outlawing Japan's Communist party.

The Communist party howled that the plaza incidents were caused "by systematic and organized provocations by spies" and thundered:

"Workers and students—rise up and start a general strike... demanding immediate release of the eight patriots."

It timed the reprisal strike to coincide with general strikes Saturday in the automobile, metal trades and heavy industry. The party's purpose in the latter is to influence the elections Sunday for the upper house of parliament.

There was no way of telling how effective the Communists could make their general strike. Occupation officials estimate the Reds control 600,000 of Japan's 6,250,000 organized workers.

Many Fatalities In Pittsburgh Area

Pittsburgh, June 1—(P)—Three Pittsburgh district persons died accidentally in the last 24 hours. Two earlier deaths were ruled accidental.

Denver Mace, 14, was drowned while swimming in Brush creek near his home in New Sewickley township, Beaver county. A companion, Roy Mitchell, 13, tried to rescue the youth.

A truck skidded on a wet roadway in Kennedy township, Allegheny county, and crashed into a pole, killing the driver, Charles Baumgartner, 45, of McKees Rocks.

A six-months-old baby was smothered by a pillow in its crib in a Mt. Washington section home. The victim was James Gungelman.

The body of Warren Stewart, 62, who disappeared from his Oakland home March 20, was found in the Allegheny river near Highland Park. Death is believed due to drowning.

City detectives announced the death of Herman K. Sener, 45, of a fractured skull Monday, was accidental.

Retraction Is Made By Judge Williams

Harrisburg, June 1—(P)—Judge Charles Scott Williams said today he has discovered that statements he made about two Pittsburgh firms during his unsuccessful campaign for the Republican nomination for governor "were in error."

Williams, Lycoming county jurist, said in a statement issued here that he regretted "having made the statements" on April 25 about Ketchum Inc., fund raising firm, and Ketchum, MacLeod and Grove, which handles merchandising, advertising and public relations.

At the time, Carlton G. Ketchum, president of Ketchum Inc., replied that Williams' statement about the firms which he cited were "a complete lie and easily proven so" and that their attorneys had been instructed to file suit for libel for $250,000 damages.

CHARGE SHAKEDOWN

Pittsburgh, June 1—(P)—A police trial board fired traffic policeman Anthony Giorgianni yesterday after a Carnegie Steel worker testified the officer took $20 from him in an illegal payment after accusing the motorist of going through a red light.

The steel worker is Leo Billicki, 58, who identified Giorgianni as the officer who made the shake-down. The officer denied the charges. He was ordered to repay the $20 and was removed from the police force.

ELECTION IN CUBA

Havana Cuba, June 1—(P)—Cuba held scattered local and parliamentary elections today in which President Carlos Prío Socarras administration and Communism were among the issues. Both questions figured in the top race of the nation—that for mayor of Havana.

The president's brother, Antonio, ran with backing of pro-government parties. Mayor Nicolas Castellanos sought re-election with support of anti-administration groups.

SECRETARY SWORN IN

Harrisburg, June 1—(P)—Gene D. Smith of Lehigh county, today had complete possession of the title of secretary of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Smith, who had been acting secretary since last October, was sworn in yesterday by Judge Claude T. Reno, of the state superior court. He succeeds the late Charles M. Morrison in the $15,000 a year post.

Congress Requested To Provide $1,222,500,000 For Second Year Of European Arms Aid Program

THINKS HE'LL PLEAD GUILTY—Pale and seemingly frightened, chemist Harry Gold (center) is flanked by U. S. deputy marshals as he enters the Federal Court Building, Philadelphia, Pa., for conference with Federal Judge James McGranery. The mild-appearing scientist, accused of transmitting stolen atomic data to a Russian spy ring, reportedly said he thought he would plead guilty.

Acheson's Report Pleases Democrats But Leaves Republican Leaders Cold

Washington, June 1—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson's question and answer session with congress pleased Democrats but left Republicans cold today.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told reporters he thinks Acheson's appearance helped cement friendly relations between the State Department and Congress.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said, on the contrary, he doesn't think that yesterday's unusual meeting in the Library of Congress auditorium "changed anything, one way or the other."

Rep. Arends (R-Ill.) said Acheson left a lot of questions unanswered.

Acheson's real test of his relations with the legislators will come with an appearance before the senate foreign relations and armed services committees tomorrow on the foreign arms program, Wherry said.

"Acheson just used congress as window dressing for a radio speech," the Nebraska senator complained. "His talk was so general and the questions and answers so general that nobody learned anything new."

"He says we are going to go into full partnership with the North Atlantic treaty nations. We'll find out what we are going to have to give up and what it will cost us when he unfolds the foreign arms program, I suppose."

Acheson is expected to propose that this country spend $1,222,500,000 in a second year effort to help western Europe rearm against the threat of Communism.

He talked yesterday of the need for this country to take the lead in strengthening the collective military forces of the United States and Atlantic pact nations.

As a report on Acheson's conferences with British, French and other foreign ministers, Lucas said he was pleased with the proceedings.

However, the Democratic leader added that he doesn't expect cabinet members to trot up to Capitol Hill for similar meetings with the lawmakers everytime anybody in congress wants to know what's going on inside the administration.

GIRL ADMITS MURDER

Philadelphia, June 1—(P)—Pleading guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, 14-year-old Thelma Lee was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the industrial home for women at Muncy. Judge Louis E. Levinthal pronounced sentence after listening to the girl's plea yesterday in connection with the death of Donald Brown, 15. Young Brown was stabbed to death last March 13 when he intervened in a fight between his sister, Rosetta, and the Lee girl.

FIREMAN FIREBUG!

Pittsburgh, June 1—(P)—A member of the Avalon Volunteer Fire Department is free on $500 bond today on a charge of turning in a false fire alarm. He is Newton E. McGinniss, 44, a member of the volunteer company for several years. Police quoted him as saying: I don't know why I did it."

BLOWN FUSE PUTS RADIO OFF THE AIR

Warren Radio Station WNAE was off the air this morning from eight minutes after seven until ten o'clock, as a result of a fuse blowing out at the Stoneham substation of the Pennsylvania Electric Company. Just what caused the fuse to blow out has not been determined by company officials. The incident caused a short circuit in the 3,000 volt line serving the area from Rogertown to Kinzua.

Blue-Shirts Start Toward Homes In West German Area

Luebeck, Germany, June 1—(P)—Ten thousand sleepy Communist youths marooned for two nights just inside the Soviet zone started moving toward their west German homes today after calling off their sitdown strike.

The blue-shirted boys and girls accepted west German police demands that they give their names or submit to medical examinations before crossing the border.

They had been camping in the chilly border "no man's land," refusing to heed the police orders, since Tuesday night when they reached the east-west zonal frontier after attending the Communist Whitman rally in Berlin.

The weary youths capitulated after a sleepless night during which they piled their straw bedding onto camp fires in an attempt to keep warm. This morning they shuffled past lines of police and watchful German doctors who gave them a quick lookover for any possible contagious diseases contracted in their crowded Berlin quarters.

There were no incidents in the early hours. Western police said doctors found no illness among the youths.

After the border medical check-up, the young Reds wound in a long column toward Luebeck's main railway station where they were to take trains to their west German homes. They appeared too tired even to chant Communist songs as they had done yesterday.

Elsewhere along the east-west zonal frontier all was quiet.

Immediate Action On Rent Control Is Sought By Douglas

Washington, June 1—(P)—Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) said today he is asking immediate action by the senate banking committee on rent control extension.

Chairman Maybank (D-S. C.) of the committee told a reporter he would "ask for a discussion of what we are to do on rent control at our committee session today."

Both Douglas and Democratic Leader Lucas, also of Illinois, have been pressing Maybank for favorable action on the extension bill because of numerous requests from back home.

Lucas, who faces a hot re-election campaign, is the author of a (Turn to Page Fourteen)

DIES AT 108 YEARS

Pittsburgh, June 1—(P)—Mrs. Sara Cortazzo, whom family records show to be 108 years old, died early today at home in Wilmerding. A member of the family said Mrs. Cortazzo was born in Salerno, Italy, in 1842 and came to this country when she was 50 years old. Her husband, Pasquale Cortazzo, a stonemason, died here at the age of 75.

Defense Secretary Asks Congress To Give President Power to Extend Draft

Washington, June 1—(P)—Secretary of Defense Johnson pleaded with congress today to give President Truman power to draft men into the armed services in time of emergency.

He won partial support from Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), who said he is changing his views because of what he called the possibility of an atomic attack on the United States.

Johnson asked the senate armed services committee for a three year extension of the draft act without a house-approved section leaving up to congress alone when any inductions could take place.

"If trouble comes, there should be in the commander-in-chief the power to act immediately without waiting to reassemble congress," Johnson said in expanding on a prepared statement he had read to the committee.

Knowland told Johnson he originally had favored the house version but now thinks some other arrangement is necessary.

"If the city of Washington were contaminated by atomic attack, the capitol couldn't be moved without congressional approval," Knowland said.

He added that if an atomic explosion wiped out most of congress the senate could be replaced by appointments made by governors. But he said it might take 60 days or more to hold special elections to obtain enough new house members to transact business.

Knowland suggested a possible compromise under which congress could have a veto on any presidential action to induct men (Turn to Page Fourteen)

TO FINANCE HELP FOR ALL PACT ALLIES

Washington, June 1—(P)—President Truman today asked congress to provide $1,222,500,000 for a second year of the arms aid program.

He said delay in supplying the money might "strike a fatal blow at all our efforts to create the kind of peace which the free world seeks and would lessen our chances of continuing to live and work in freedom."

The fund would finance arms shipments to more than a dozen foreign nations, including Atlantic pact allies, during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The $1,222,500,000 requested by Mr. Truman is slightly less than the $1,314,010,000 which congress appropriated last year to help 13 nations rearm against communism.

Mr. Truman made the request in his first semi-annual report to congress on the handling of the first year program, which began last fall.

Backing up his request, Mr. Truman said:

"The momentum already gained must under no circumstances be lost, because, once lost, it is doubtful that it can ever be recaptured at any cost."

The president gave his breakdown as to how the new money would be spent.

North Atlantic treaty nations—$1,000,000,000. This would go for weapons, a training program and would include spending of $75,000,000 for raw materials and machinery needed to boost military production in western Europe.

Greece and Turkey—$120,000,000 to furnish "basic capital equipment," spare parts and to help modernize Greek and Turkish defenses.

Iran, the Philippines and Korea—$27,500,000. The report said this would pay for equipment and training to help the Iranian army "present a firm stand in defense Soviet pressures" and to help the Philippines and south Korean governments to maintain internal order in the face of Communist threats.

General area of China—$75,000,000. (Turn to Page Fourteen)

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY SHOWS AN INCREASE

State College, June 1—(P)—Pennsylvania industrial activity during April reached its highest point in 13 years. An index of 198 was reported.

The bureau of business research at the Pennsylvania State College noted yesterday that the index climbed 4 points from 184 in March to attain its highest mark since January 1949, when it was 189.

The index of industrial activity is based upon anthracite and bituminous coal production, electricity hours in manufacturing and industrial power sales. It uses the years 1935-39 as 100.

The bureau cited as particularly encouraging the improvements in the factory payroll and employment series, as well as industrial power sales.

Dining Room and Kitchen at Girl Scout Camp Conditioned By Kiwanis Members

The building housing the dining room and kitchen at Girl Scout Camp Birdall Edey was conditioned for the coming busy season by 25 members of the Warren Kiwanis Club who participated in a "work bee" staged there Wednesday afternoon under the supervision of Clem Wolstencroft, chairman.

The men tore off an old shed attached to the building that was considered not only an eyesore but a fire hazard and in its place erected a porch, with steps, etc. All screens on the building were repaired and painted; completed the painting of the kitchen; moved the hot water heater on a foundation in a new location; extended the kitchen porch roof over the steps, and changed all exit doors to conform to state regulations so that they open out automatically.

Considerable work was done in repairing the ceiling and a new eave trough was erected over the front porch. In addition to these improvements numerous minor repairs were made.

Late in the afternoon George Seavy and his committee served a pancake supper, assisted by a group of Girl Scouts and leaders who furnished dessert.

Mr. Wolstencroft announces that another "work bee" is planned for next Saturday afternoon beginning at 1:30 o'clock, when it is hoped to complete a number of odd jobs that still await attention.

Considering the bad roads, the untoward weather the turnout on Wednesday was very gratifying, and those who participated are credited with doing a commendable and badly needed job.

Y-Teen Camp At Newatah

Camp is the main topic of conversation at the YWCA these days, and about 90 enthusiastic girls are anxiously waiting for June 11th to roll around.

Summer camp will again be held at Camp Newatah with the dates set for June 11 to 22. Newatah, Jamestown YMCA camp, is on Lake Chautauqua, about one-half mile above Midway Park. It is a beautiful camp site, with facilities for a fine program.

The camp operates on a non-profit basis, since the "Y" feels that fees should be as low as possible in order that more girls may benefit from the camping experience.

Girls registered for the summer session are reminded by camp officials that they must pay the remainder of their fees no later than June 8.

Varied activities offered the campers will include worship, swimming, hiking, crafts, dramatics, softball, badminton, volleyball, shuffle board, archery, first aid, music and newspaper. Following the old camp traditions, special programs are planned throughout the ten-day period.

Mrs. McCurtis Allison, program director of the YWCA, and Miss Jean Spencer, English and Spanish teacher in Warren High School, are the camp directors, with Mrs. Paul Myers as camp nurse.

A capable staff of counselors selected includes Mary Jane Schueltz, Kay DeLong, Rosamond DeLong, Warren; Pat Jones, Jamestown, N. Y.; Jane Daryman, Barbara Curtz, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Joseph Kestler, Mrs. Jack Leslie, Marjorie See, Sharon; Jean Morse, Erie; Jean Wemmer, Philadelphia. PROJECT THAT DESERVES SUPPORT

The National Blood Program of the American Red Cross did not come into being as a result of accident. The nation's top leaders in medicine saw the great benefits of blood transfusions during the war, they realized that the need would be constant during peacetime.

The time should come when every healthy American between the ages of 18 and 60 will consider it a privilege to donate a pint of his blood to save the lives of his fellow-Americans. It is a simple and harmless procedure to visit the Red Cross Blood Center and donate blood. Yet this visit may well end in a miracle—the atomic age miracle of preserving life through the use of whole blood, plasma, or one of the other blood derivatives.

This community opportunity is also a responsibility. The blood collected in this community will be first available for use at the Warren General Hospital and the Warren State Hospital. The blood will be given free of charge, however, there may be the customary laboratory charge by the hospital and the professional fee of the physician.

No greater peacetime project has ever been undertaken by the American National Red Cross. It is a project that deserves and unquestionably will receive the full support of American people.

BIG PARADE COMING UP

A concerted effort is already under way to assure a large number of attractive floats for the parade to be a feature of the celebration to be staged in connection with the local observance of Independence Day. To this end a coupon will be printed in the Times-Mirror for the convenience of those desiring to enter.

The coupon will contain space for entering either floats or marching units, and should be filled out and returned as early as possible. Participation by all business places, industries, lodges, clubs, societies and other organizations is cordially solicited by the committee in charge, which is hoping to make this the largest and most imposing parade ever witnessed in Warren.

A total of $425 is being offered in prizes for the best floats, with the top award being $200. Already a number have expressed their intentions of trying for the prizes. Any one of the three prizes will make it well worth the expense and trouble required to enter a prize-winning float. Better get busy now!

IT ISN'T CRICKET

To most of us South Africa is a far-away land that seldom figures in our thinking. But there is one South African probably familiar to everyone who reads newspapers and looks at newsreels and picture magazines. He is Jan Christian Smuts, long-time prime minister of the country, who is now out of power.

For many years Smuts was the symbol of his nation as Winston Churchill was of wartime Britain. The serene, stalwart South African spoke with wisdom and strength in Allied councils through two world wars. He is a man of world stature, honored by statesmen everywhere.

It is with regret, therefore, that we read that the present extreme rightist government of South Africa put a damper on celebration of his recent 80th birthday. That government must be shaky indeed if it cannot risk allowing tribute to its first Citizen simply because he happens to be a political rival.

South Africa's government might say it's none of our business. In reply we'd say that where a man of Smut's caliber is concerned, it's the world's affair.

WANTS NOSE IN INVESTIGATION ONLY

Sen. Millard E. Tydings, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee investigating alleged Communists in government, was holding an impromptu press conference in the Capitol corridor after an executive session. A photographer made a picture of the gathering, just as Senator Tydings rubbed his nose. The conference stopped right there while the senator stormed at the photographer. "Now look! If that picture shows me pulling my nose, I want you to destroy the plate." The photographer promised.

The season is here when men fish and lie about—their fish.

Young men are people who ask a girl's father for her hand and then run out in a dishwater.

Here And There

One of our constant readers, who prefers to remain anonymous, sends this contribution, for which we are sincerely grateful: "The community of Russell and vicinity presented a unique combination during its observance of Memorial Day, not often duplicated in small northern communities. The husky and handsome man leading the parade as marshal is the modest wearer of the Distinguished Service Cross, the daughter of a Confederate officer rendered very splendid help in placing the Service Flags in Pine Grove Cemetery." (Thanks—keep us in mind when you have similar items of interest to readers.)

The recent change in ownership of the Warren Axe & Tool Company occurs fifty years to the month from the time that it was announced the plant was about to begin operation late in May, 1900. The following article appeared in the Warren Evening Mirror: "The Warren Axe & Tool Company are rapidly getting their plant in readiness for operation and expect to begin turning out their product in about a month. The new buildings are completed and the work of installing the machinery is well along. The capacity of the new plant will be triple that of the old one. The buildings extend about 250 feet deep and 75 feet wide. It is possible to turn out 50,000 axes a month and judging from the advance orders to be filled it will be necessary to run almost the full capacity. This will be one of the largest independent axe factories in the United States, and it will be complete in every particular as the latest ideas in vogue have been adopted in the work of reconstruction and refitting. As a preventative of the recurrence of the disastrous fires of the past the American Watchman's Time Detector System has been installed. The company is fortunate in procuring the services of D. W. Murphy, for many years superintendent of the American Axe & Tool company's large plant in Jamestown. He has taken an interest in the business here and will superintend the mechanical department. The capital stock of the company has recently been increased from $25,000 to $75,000. About fifty men will be given employment when operations begin."

This And That: It is interesting to note that it was just fifty years ago that it was announced that Bishop John E. Fitzmaurice of the Erie diocese, appointed the Rev. Father Joseph W. Sieverding rector of St. Joseph's parish in this city. . . . Spectators along the line of march Tuesday were impressed by the color, length and prompt starting hour of the Memorial Day parade. . . . Warren is not the only place where there is a noticeable lack of civic pride. Notice down in Oil City vandals continue to destroy the flower beds in some sections of the town. Officials say that a dozen geraniums and many tulips have been stolen from the Central avenue plaza. . . . Committees in charge of the various activities scheduled for the local observance of Fourth of July are beginning to click in a big way, now that Memorial Day is out of the way. There will be a meeting of the general committee next Tuesday evening, and this should be more important than any yet held. Entries are being received for the drum corps competition and parade, which, from all indications, will be the best ever. . . . Warren Episcopalians will be interested to learn that the Rev. Thomas L. Small, D. D., rector of Christ church in Oil City, will mark the 30th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood next Sunday. . . . The Erie Sailors, worried over the small crowds attending the Middle Atlantic League games, has protested to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler the broadcast of the Cleveland Indians' games by an Ashtabula station. A situation similar to the one that exists in Warren, adjacent to Jamestown and Bradford PONY League towns. . . . One of the most interesting and unusual parades to be witnessed in Warren in many a year was that of Monday evening when several hundred youngsters marched from the center of town to the carnival grounds behind the VFW band. Such a turnout gives one an impressive idea of just what is being accomplished in the community through the activities of the Hot Stove League.

VA Runs Into Trouble, Trying to Reduce Expenses

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., recently visited the VA tubercular hospital at Fort Bayard, N. M. It is a temporary structure and something of a fire hazard. General Gray came back to Washington and recommended to President Truman that it be closed. The recommendation was turned down because of political promises that it would be kept open.

Veterans Administration has been having its troubles in trying to close down its paraplegic hospital at Van Nuys, Calif. This is another temporary facility. It was proposed to move the patients at Van Nuys no farther away than Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Fernando hospitals. Also, it was proposed to build a new 1000-bed neuropsychiatric hospital on the site of the Van Nuys hospital after it was closed.

But when the Veterans Administration announced the closing, a storm of local protest arose. The Chamber of Commerce got busy. Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas was drawn into the hubbalooboo, to add her official congressional protest to the closing. Movie stars were enlisted to protest. Frances Langford was delegated to see President Truman about it on his recent western trip, but she got a none too neat brush-off.

This kind of monkey business is apparently going to be repeated about 16 times in the next few years. Veterans Administration has made no official announcement of it as yet, but it has plans to close all of its temporary hospitals.

VA's purpose is to save money. Maintenance costs are far greater in a temporary, horizontal-type rambling structure than in one of the newer, vertical, skyscraper-type hospitals. Also, the permanent-type structures are safer and can give better medical service.

Not all the 18 temporary VA hospitals will be closed at once. The plan involves shutting down the old facilities only as new facilities in the same area can be opened. It may take five years or more to complete the present VA hospital building program.

If permitted to go through with this program, Veterans Administration could save a lot of money. A new Budget Bureau field study on government hospital operation costs is now under way. But a recent survey indicated that it was costing about $8,000,000 a year more to operate the temporary hospitals than it would be to operate the same number of beds in permanent buildings.

The trouble is that every time a proposal is made to shut down one of these inefficient installations, local pride and pocketbooks get hurt and produce a terrific yell. Governors and congressmen and senators join the protest. And under such pressure, saving the government money becomes impossible.

THIS is the list of temporary hospitals which the Veterans Administration now wants to close as new facilities are opened:

Cushing General Hospital, 1100 beds, Framingham, Mass.
Phoenix General Hospital, 144 beds, Phoenix, Ariz.
Fort Logan General Hospital, 326 beds, near Denver, Colo.
Chamblee General Hospital, 750 beds, Chamblee, Ga.
Fort Benjamin Harrison General Hospital, 500 beds, near Indianapolis, Ind.
Topeka Neuropsychiatric Hospital, 1400 beds, Topeka, Kan. This is a big NP training center and will not be closed for some years.
Louisville General Hospital, 1000 beds, Louisville, Ky.
New Orleans General Hospital, 670 beds, New Orleans, La.
Springfield Tubercular Hospital, 600 beds, Springfield, Mo.
Saratoga Springs General Hospital, 50 beds, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.
Swananoos General Hospital, 500 beds, Swananoos, N. C.
Crile General Hospital, 1000 beds, Cleveland, Ohio.
Oklahoma General Hospital, 220 beds, Oklahoma City, Okla.
Butler General Hospital, 305 beds, Butler, Pa.
McKinney General Hospital, 1000 beds, McKinney, Tex.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

The stork unexpectedly called at the Salvation Army last night requesting a home for a bright-eyed ten-day old baby boy. Adjutant E. Toplis is wondering if there is a kindly woman in Warren who will unquestioningly take the unfortunate child until a permanent home can be found.

An elaborate Memorial Day program is being planned for Warren. A parade of Catholic organizations at 8:40 in the morning will be followed by the Memorial Day parade at ten o'clock. There will be dinner for Civil War veterans by Ladies of the G.A.R. Circle at Liberty Inn; for Legion boys at Legion Home; for Auxiliaries.

Bobby Jones defeated Jimmy Johnston, one up, in the sixth round of the British amateur golf championship today.

Miss Allison, popular Latin teacher in the high school was given a surprise when the girls of her first and third period Latin classes presented her with a vase, lovely candlesticks and candies. The presentation was made by Anne Beatty and Carolyn Davidson and Elizabeth Jamieson were on the committee that sponsored the program.

A secular concert is being planned and sponsored by Mrs. Charlotte Hall Lohmes and Mrs. Lillian B. Barstow to be given in the First Methodist Episcopal church in June. Miss Cecelia Thompson will be vocal soloist of the evening.

S. W. Barr, Civil War veteran, will give the Gettysburg address at the Sheffield Decoration Day ceremonies.

War Bulletin: The trapped Allied armies are retreating toward the coast. Many are believed seeking escape from the German trap via channel ports. Half starved and numbed with weariness, soldier survivors of the bloody battle of Flanders are in flight from the port of Dunkerque in France. 55,000 of the 90,000 men are British.

The final issue of the Dragonette for this school term made its appearance today and is dedicated to Mrs. Helene Wood McClure, who is retiring from the faculty. Grade school skating contests held in Hickory street, inaugurated the YM's observance of National Youth Week. Winners in the boys' races were Lewis Bonace, Leroy Ecksterom and Bill Hill. In the girls' matches Anna, Timgwall was first with Frances Spittstone, second and Shirley Scholton, third.

Names of students who will occupy the more important positions on the 1941 board of the Dragon, Warren high annual publication, were announced today. William Granquist has been named editor of the Dragon for the next year, with Patty Knapp and Jo Mackay as assistant editors. Joe Cannon will serve as business manager, with Doris Hamblin as assistant.

MacKenzie's Column

BY SIGRID ARNE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
(For DeWitt MacKenzie)
Secretary of State Acheson is trying to do in congress today what the same thing he achieved in London early this month, talking to the foreign ministers of 12 European nations.
He talks twice with congress today: once publicly, and once behind closed doors where the members can ask questions.

Basically, his job at home is about the same as it was abroad. He is convinced that it is not enough to revive the fervor for democracy among the people of the free nations. He thinks those same people must be ready to win any military attack on their area, and he is advocating a course to that end.
Up to now, since World War II, the drive has been to give the people of western Europe enough hope for their own individual futures so they would continue their belief in democratic government. A year ago that expanded to include putting guns into their hands, so they could defend their beliefs. A year ago the U. S. voted $1,238,600,000 (B) to start the job of re-arming western Europe.

Now that program has been sharpened by Acheson's visit abroad. He wanted, and won a program that American military men have worked out: A program under which all North Atlantic armed forces would be mapped, built, designed, and paid for, as a single unit, each nation would contribute its best. But no nation would try the wasteful effort of building a single defense unit.

This means that the north Atlantic pact nations — Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom, and Canada and the United States—must set aside the money to build armies, navies and air fleets. The program will be expensive.
For Europe the program comes (Turn to Page Twenty).

Coming of Red Cross Blood Center To This Community Welcomed By Physicians

Physicians of Warren and surrounding communities welcome the coming of a Red Cross regional blood center because they now the vital importance of having plentiful supplies of blood for patients who may need it.

They know that blood transfusions undoubtedly save lives. They suspect that many thousands are lost each year through lack of blood. In the past some of them, unfortunately, have seen life ebb away for lack of blood to save a patient.

Human blood has no substitute. Blood is a "living" fluid, with living red and white blood cells. It is the transportation system of the body. It takes the necessary food, water, and oxygen to the tissues, and carries away the waste products which are poisonous if allowed to remain in the body cells. Blood helps protect the body from disease.

When a person loses enough blood to impair the efficiency of his blood transportation system, his life may be in danger. Sometimes one pint of blood is all that is needed to restore the patient's blood to operating efficiency. The amount required depends on the actor or factors causing the loss of blood.

The immense value of blood was proven most dramatically during World War II. Just prior to and during the war years, more scientific advancements in the field of blood were made than during all the thousands of years of man's history. Many years had passed since the discovery of the blood circulatory system in 1628 by Harvey and the four major blood groups in 1901 by Landsteiner. The medical world knew that blood transfusion was possible and could be made safe. However, until as recently as 1944, blood could be preserved well enough for transfusion purposes only for about two or three days. That missing factor of preservation prevented the use of whole blood transfusions in a large scale. Too often, it was impossible to find the right donor with blood matching that of the patient at a crucial moment when blood was needed. Now, through the use of an improved preservation solution, blood can be kept about 21 days.

Before the United States entered World War II, scientists had perfected a way to separate the plasma (mainly the liquid part of blood) from red cells. It was processed into powder for reconstruction by distilled water and could withstand the rigors of war transportation. This type of plasma, used on every battlefield by the armed forces, was considered the next best thing to blood. Most of the blood donated to Red Cross during its wartime blood program was made into plasma. During and after 1944, some of it was shipped for use as whole blood.

While plasma can be given every credit for the excellent work it did in saving lives, physicians prefer whole blood in most instances when a transfusion is needed. In some cases, however, plasma may be the physician's first choice. For example, when a patient has been badly burned, much of his blood plasma is lost from blood vessels into the tissues; though the red cells remain in the blood vessels. Plasma is given to restore the vitality needed liquid volume and blood proteins in plasma. Later, whole blood is needed to correct the anemia which frequently follows severe burns.

As an aid to medicine and surgery, whole blood cannot be over-emphasized. When a physician or surgeon calls for a blood transfusion, he knows that his patient needs that all-important boost which only blood can give. Often-times, the immediate availability of blood means the difference in life or death. It can mean the difference in a slow recovery or a sounder, speedier one.

Medical science has found that most normally healthy people can safely give a pint of blood. A well person's body mechanism replaces a pint of blood within five to eight weeks.

The Red Cross program through which the people of this community can provide blood for medical use is a new factor in safeguarding the health of the entire community. If the Warren County Red Cross chapter fulfills its quota of 100 pints of blood each month, all residents of Warren county will be assured whole blood at no cost for the blood, whenever it is needed. Blood donor pledge cards may be secured by calling Red Cross headquarters, 2826. The first three visits of the Red Cross Bloodmobile are scheduled for June 14, July 12 and August 9 with operations starting at 10 a. m. and ending at 4 p. m. on the dates listed.

Child Who Seems 'Ungrateful' May Not Understand Finances

SALLY's parents are giving her everything they can. Yet because they can't always give her every extra and every advantage some of her friends get, Sally often feels she isn't getting a fair deal.

Sally's parents think they have an ungrateful daughter. And Sally thinks her parents just don't understand how important certain things are to a girl her age.

How can they get together?

It seems to me that there is only one practical way of solving this common teen-age problem. And that is for the parents to start keeping books so that they can show Sally in black and white just how much money is being spent on her.

High school and even college-age sons and daughters often haven't the vaguest notion of what they cost their parents. Many don't realize what percentage of the family income goes to feed, clothe, and educate them, and indulge their natural longing to do and have what the young crowd considers important.

SHOULD BE GIVEN THE FACTS

IN fairness to the parents and to the teen-agers the young folks should be told.

It isn't good for parents to keep telling their children how much they are sacrificing for them. But it is only right to let them know the simple facts of family finances.

"Ungrateful" children are usually just those who don't really know what the score is. They don't know because their parents have always given them what they could without making them understand just what that meant to the family budget.

Today's teen-agers need to know the facts of family finances. Those same facts will stand them in good stead later in life.

Youngsville High Alumni Welcomes The Class Of 1950 Into Its Ranks

Youngsville High School gym was well filled last evening when the YHS Alumni Association held its 48th annual dinner-dance to welcome the Class of 1950 into the group.

The room was decorated with suspended pastel-colored balloons and large crepe paper numerals of all classes from 1900 onward to date.

Tables were decorated with pink streamers over the white cloths, the 1950 colors being pink and white. The dinner was served by the Youngsville PTA.

Claude Luvison, president of the Association, was in the chair for the business meeting, and welcomed the Class of 1950 into the association. Ardon Johnson, class president, responded briefly.

At the business meeting, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Ronald Thompson, president; Raymond Walter, vice president; Mrs. Willis Munson, secretary; and Shirley Peterson, treasurer. The retiring secretary's report was given by Jack Wood, and the treasurer's report presented by Sherwood Fleming.

Pete Mesner, WNAE announcer, entertained the guests with a humorous talk following which dancing was enjoyed from nine to twelve to the music of Stew Snyder's orchestra.

Guests present included Rev. J. C. Franzen, Pete Mesner and Martha Hill Wilson, of the WNAE staff, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Schuler, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Orval Borton and Mr. and Mrs. Armon Johnson, sponsors of the Class of 1950, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Getts and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stillings.

Dorcas Class Party Is Enjoyable Affair

About 65 persons were in attendance for the mother-daughter banquet held at First Lutheran church by the Dorcas Class, with each person greeted at the door and presented a corsage from a huge flower basket.

At 6:30, a delicious dinner was ably served by Bethel Bible Class at tables beautifully decorated in pastel shades.

Mrs. Marie Leuthold introduced the class teacher, Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, who gave the invocation and welcome. Mrs. Charlotte Turner was at the piano for group singing and Mrs. Cece Allison delighted with her readings. She also gave a complete history of the class, which had been compiled by Mabel Hill. A sketch, "Down Memory Lane Via Radio," was presented by the following: Dennis and Janice Hahn, Hazel Kays, Geraldine and Doris Peterson, Mary Cobb, and Lillian Ristau as soloists. Miss Ristau sang two numbers in tribute to mothers, a poem, "Mom," and "Down Memory Lane" were written and directed by Mrs. Olive Soderberg, member of the class. Jane Munn and her accompanist, Lynne Scott, presented three musical skits.

A surprise presentation was a gift for the oldest mother, Mrs. Thomas Anderson, 86, who attended with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Cobb. The program was concluded with all singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Mrs. Soderberg and her committee, Mrs. Frances Webster, Mrs. Doris Peterson, Mrs. Polly Schirck and Mrs. Mable Decker, were most appreciative of the efforts of all who helped to make the party a success.

Then there was another golfer whose mind was more on driving cars than on golf balls and whose timely epitaph follows:

"Better dead than detoured—Brightly in the morning, early I set off

To drive up to the Country Club, to have a game of golf.

I started over Fifth street—darn, the bridge was barred!

I switched up over Redwood, and that was freshly tarred.

I tried to turn up Verbeck—the place was one wide ditch.

No thoroughfare at Third street, all dug up by some witch.

The Third street bridge was one-way—narrow, full of cars;

And Market street resembled a crossroad up in Mars.

The club at last! The game I played is better left untold.

The details of my passing I now to you unfold—

My death was fairly painless, the place on Number Seven—

With my last shot, I held the thought—the hoped-for road to Heaven

Would not be barred and tarred and such, and detoured via Hell—

But, well! Guess who was waitin'—Satan!"

State President Gives Charter To Marine Auxiliary

Mrs. Florence Kilmyer, of Pittsburgh, as president of the Marine Corps League Auxiliary of Pennsylvania, was a guest of the Warren unit last evening and formally presented the organization with its charter.

The presentation was a feature of a dinner-meeting held at Bide-A-Wee Inn, with Mrs. Kilmyer and Mrs. J. A. Rockwell, of Warren, as honored guests.

Marine colors of blue and gold were attractively used in table appointments arranged by Mrs. Bernard Winegardner and her committee.

In addition to conducting a "model meeting," Mrs. Kilmyer installed the following officers for the Warren Auxiliary, organized in April: President, Mrs. Howard Clark; senior vice president, Mrs. Charles Warriner; secretary, Mrs. Robert Stevenson; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Gruttaria. The junior vice president, William Nuhfer, was unable to be present and was installed by proxy.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary is scheduled for Flag Day, June 14, at the home of Mrs. Gruttaria, Prospect street.

SMOKY JOE

AP News Service

By W. F. BRAGG

Chapter 17
THE day guard ordinarily removed Joe's supper dishes before he went off shift. But this night something delayed him. That set Joe to wondering if the fellow's failure to appear was part of the fake jail delivery plot.

If a prisoner attempted a getaway, he would not attempt an escape through the front office where armed deputy stood guard. The jail's front entrance also opened on the town's brightly lighted main street. Only a fool would follow such a route.

Preferably, one bent on escape would flee through the rear entrance. This led to the dark alley down which Joe had been carried after the fight in the Silver Hill.

A crew of keen-eyed gunhawks could be placed just outside the rear entrance. The moment the escaping prisoner appeared, he would walk into a killing blast of gunfire.

Here was a gamble on which he would stake his life that he knew which door was covered by gunhawks. The men, who were bent on his death, had decided on the course that an escaping prisoner would pursue.

The empty gun would be his key to freedom, after all. He would go through the office guarded by Shorty.

Joe wasn't amazed when Hard Hat unlocked his cell door and entered, saying that the turnkey had been called uptown on an errand.

Hard Hat was wearing his derby on the side of his bullet head and chewing the stump of a dead cigar. He appeared more affable than was his custom. Nor did that surprise Joe. The sheriff was soft-soaping him into a jail break attempt.

The sheriff broke another good old calaboose custom. The turnkey always opened and closed cell doors with caution. They did not allow the big key ring to jangle from a lock.

But Hard Hat not only allowed the door to remain open but left the key in the lock.

It was an open invitation to escape.

Chapter 18
F Rogan had planned his attack on Joe and Whisperin', perhaps his first bullets would have drawn blood. But Pack was so amazed, he fired wildly.

Pack steadied himself, aware that panic had at first unsteadyed him. When he fired, Joe felt the sheriff's hard hat shift on his head.

With a curse half smothered by his drooping mustache, Whisperin' flipped his gun.

Joe bent and chopped down the gun barrel as Whisperin' pulled the trigger. The slug drilled dust at Pack's toes. Pack dived for the corner of the jail.

Whisperin' whirled around, showing his teeth in a wild rage. "What's comin' off?" he yelled. "Why don't you let me get that coyote for keeps?"

Joe answered with another shove and a snarled order. "Get across the street! Fast! Head for an alley! The whole game will jump us in a minute!"

Cheated of their prey because their gun trap had failed to close, Pack's gang fanned out and came on in full cry like a pack of hounds.

Joe heard a sudden clamor of voices up in front of the Silver Hill, the rattle of pony hoofs as riders turned their mounts and came galloping toward the jail.

Whisperin' dodged into the mouth of an alley, Joe at his heels. As he ran Joe could hear behind him in the street the shuffling of pony hoofs, the whoops of the punchers, the baffled cursing of Pack's men.

The dark alley came out on a vacant lot, shaggy with sagebrush, and littered with the usual accompaniment of tin cans. Whisperin' and Joe paused here for a breather. They listened a moment to the horsemen in the street.

Then Whisperin' bitterly upbraided Joe. "You deliberately saved Pack Rogan. My gun was square on him. You knocked down the barrel. I had you figured as clean stinker, Joe. But you sure turned soft on me."

Joe looked around and knew that safety lay in getting immediately out of town. But he saw no profit in retreating immediately. Pack and his men were not so close. Their plans had been upset. They wouldn't believe that a ous slopes and erosion, Glen will be able to finish making his conservation plan later this month. The Land Use Capability Map of Glen's farm will be prepared using the information which we found. This will help Glen to "Put each acre to its best use."

The same is true for Elmer Peterson, whose farm conservation survey was made Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Peterson was very conscious of his erosion problem, having made several attempts on his own part to reduce soil wash.

His survey shows the physical reasons for his erosion problems. Glen Schuler, Yankeebush farmer, completed his plan on Wednesday with the assistance of Ralph G. Eckert, SCS technician. Glen's big interest this summer is his farm pond. Ralph spent Thursday helping Ray Mahan, Lander farmer, with his conservation problems. Ray has had a drainage problem on his hands and his conservation plan calls for draining the wet spots.

PERSONAL ITEMS
Vera S. Miller, of New York City, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stricker, Redwood street.

Cocoa, mahogany and other hard woods, kola nuts, palm kernels, copra and rubber are the West African Gold Coast's chief agricultural exports.

A gray birch tree is old at 40.

The pepper vine is native to southern India.

Hard Hat even generously put himself in position so that Joe could get the drop on him.

This was it, Joe decided. He sat on his bunk and slid his hand under the pillow. He reached for the derringer there. Now he stood up, very quietly. He stepped over and pushed the barrels of Kate's toy against the small of the sheriff's back.

"Not a move, Sheriff," he whispered.

Hard Hat began to act his part with vigor. He overdid the role, being an amateur. He began to plead for his life and he was put to it to make his voice sound shaky.

"Don't kill me," he wheezed. "You haven't got a show to get away if you do. The sound of a shot will bring Shorty running. Don't lose your head!"

"Go out the door ahead of me," he whispered. "Don't swing around or try to grab me! You've told me plenty times to stop a bullet from Shorty than choke at the end of a rope. So walk easy, Hard Hat."

Now they were in the corridor which was illuminated by a single long-hanging oil lamp. Joe noted that Hard Hat made one mistake the moment he stepped from the cell. The sheriff turned toward the rear door, which indicated to Joe that the guns were waiting in the rear of the jail.

For a moment Joe felt a little sick. Then he remembered the door of Whisperin' Johnson's cell. He heard the harsh excited voice of the old puncher. "Kid—turn back! I tried to warn you. You're waitin' outside!"

Joe had taken the key ring from his door before he marched. Bultane toward the rear door. He found the big key that fitted the locks of all the doors and opened Whisperin' Johnson's cell.

"Finally figured out you weren't drunk," he said. "But I got sick of stayin' in jail. We're goin' out. Tonight, Whisperin'."

"They'll cut you pieces if you step out the rear door."

"Shucks," Joe said boldly, "nobody will stop us. I'm not worryin' about goin' out the rear door."

He laughed and whipped off the sheriff's hat. "Bultane's about my size and figure. The light ain't so good in here. If there's anybody outside the rear entrance, they'll not be able to make out a man's face very good. But they'll know Bultane by his hard hat. And naturally they will shoot up the man who isn't wearing any. So—"

Joe laughed again as he put on Bultane's hat. The change in the sheriff proved instantly to Joe that gunmen were outside the rear door. For Bultane lost his wits. He began to plead for his life.

"Boys," he said hoarsely, "don't shoot me out there, please!"

"You stunk," growled Joe, "turn around. We're going through the office."

The sheriff was forced to rap on the closed door of the front office and call to Shorty that he was required back in the cell corridor. The deputy obediently pushed open the door.

Joe wrapped both his arms around Shorty's frame, pinning the deputy's arms tightly against his ribs. At the same instant, Whisperin' Johnson gave Hard Hat a brutal shove into the office.

Hard Hat fell over a chair. Before he could regain his feet, Whisperin' had leaped to the arms rack hanging on the wall which contained the jail's reserve artillery. He seized a six-gun.

Whirling about, Whisperin' knocked Hard Hat old with the barrel of his gun. He jerked off Hard Hat's narrow waist belt. Aided by Joe, he tied Shorty's hands behind his back and gagged him with his own bandanna. Shorty lay on the floor, glaring up balefully at the two men.

Armed with guns and belts taken from the arms rack, they started boldly down the front steps. Up the street Joe heard the flaring music of the Silver Hill brass band. He grinned. Was Nevada Kate seated in her dressing room this moment regretting that she had sent a young man into a death trap?

Pack Rogan stepped around a corner of the jail at that moment. For a second, he stood in open-mouthed amazement, then he let out a yell, flipped up a gun, and opened fire.

trio, William Goudy, Mary Alice Venman and Beverly Lundmark; address, Rev. Vincent Pomeroy, pastor of Grace Evangelical United Brethren church, Jamestown, introduced by Ray Albough; solo, God Bless America, Vinton Finzer; silent tribute while "Taps" was sounded.

A parade was formed and marched to the cemetery, where the following organizations took part in the service: American Legion Post 135, VFW Post 631, Marine Corps League, IOOF, Russell Volunteer Fire Department, Rebekah Lodge, Firemen's Auxiliary, Girl and Boy Scouts and Brownies. The band, in new uniforms, played several numbers at the cemetery and the VFW firing squad sounded taps.

The following have been elected as officers for next year's Memorial Day observance: Chairman, Pat Ferrie; vice chairman, Francis Lewis; secretary-treasurer, Don Pearson, program committee, Axel Nasman and Ralph Walker. Barnes, June 1—Under sponsorship of Frank Glendenning Post, American Legion, Memorial Day program was presented in the local cemetery Tuesday. This service is always very beautiful and impressive and is greatly appreciated by the residents of Barnes. Many who have lived here previously, make it a point to come back for these services, to decorate their graves and to greet many old friends. Rev. Hans Pearson was the speaker this year, and the prayer was made by Rev. Hulse. The association should be commended for its fine work in keeping up the cemetery.

Corydon, June 1—Memorial Day in this community was highlighted by two important events, with dedication of the new Honor Roll plaque in Memorial Cemetery and the gathering of 250 young people, representatives of the annual rally of Nazarenes who spent the day with religious services and numerous recreational activities. A vote was taken to hold the next affair at Port Allegany. Rev. DeForest Tennesse took charge of the dedication services, that were preceded by a fine parade staged by local and out of town veterans. Both Corydon's cemeteries and Honor Roll plots were made most attractive for the Memorial Day occasion.

Geary Bean is officer in charge from five p. m. until five a. m., and that both are responsible to the burgess. In absence of the burgess, the officers will be responsible to William E. 000. The president said this money is needed "to continue and expand upon" present programs for giving help "to the non-Communist forces in this area that are now engaged or in danger of being engaged, in active conflict with militant Communist elements."

Informed officials said, however, that assistance will be given to 14 countries aside from those nations in "the general area of China."

The North Atlantic treaty nations to get arms, they said, are Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway and Portugal.

Portugal is being added to the list for the first time. Small amounts of naval and air force equipment will be sent to bolster Portugal's coastline defenses and to help maintain the strategic air bases on the Azores.

President Truman also asked "some form of limited authority" in the event of an emergency, to divert a "small portion" of money earmarked for any specific area.

THE MARKETS

New York, June 1—(AP)—Fresh buying of radio-television stocks highlighted a generally firm market today. TV shares advanced fractions to more than a point in brisk trading. Yesterday a surge of demand in this group lifted quotations an extreme of more than two points. International Nickel was also a favorite, scoring a new 1950 high with a rise of a point to 30 1/2. The stock thrust up 1 1/2 yesterday. Late in the day an increase in the price of nickel was announced. Steels did fairly well as a group, reflecting another week of record high production and heavy consumer demand.

REPORTING

A recent magazine article contains the information that a man by the name of Harry I. Wildenberg, a Key West, Fla., merchant, was responsible for the comic book. He developed the idea as a means of selling color printing—what an innocent way things have of starting!

Anyway, that was back in 1932 B. C. (Before Comics) and since then, every year more children come to librarians and say "But, how am I supposed to read this book? It doesn't have any pictures."

Incidentally, Mr. Wildenberg, who hatched the bonanza, is heartily sorry that he ever started the idea and refuses to let his daughter read comics.

You're making a mistake Mr. Wildenberg. In the first place, not all comics are bad. In the second

CALL FOR SOUTHEAST ASIA PACT—Black areas on map show the seven nations to which the Philippines government has issued a call for a permanent security pact against aggression. The proposal was made by Philippine Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo to delegates of the seven countries at a conference in the summer capital at Baguio. Although Romulo didn't describe it as an anti-Communist pact, all the countries are threatened by Communist aggression and the delegates made no mistake of his intent.

FOR FREEDOM

This is one of the 1000 colored balloons released by anti-Communist Redline as counter-propaganda to the German Communist youth organizations in the Soviet sector. Besides a large white letter "F" for freedom, the balloon shows a red youth behind barbed wire and asks the question, "FBI for whom are you working?" The balloon is weighted with lead.

FARM ROUND-UP
By JOHN DEITRICK
Harrisburg, May 31—(P)—Pennsylvania potato growers are split over the question of whether to adopt the federal price support program for potatoes in the Keystone state this year.
The U. S. Agriculture Department is preparing to poll state growers to determine if the price support program is desired in the commonwealth.
The price support program and allied marketing agreements can become effective in a state only if approved by 67 per cent of the growers who vote on the issue.
The most powerful opposition against the price support program is coming from the Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers Association.
The association, which claims a membership of some 1,500 growers in the state, contends that the price support program is "completely undemocratic." They assert also it represents an attempt to "regiment" the nation's agriculture.
On the other hand, proponents of the price program insist that federal regulation will put "fly-by-night" growers out of business and raise the quality of potatoes in the commonwealth.
If a 1950 price support program is adopted for Pennsylvania an 18-member administrative committee of producers and dealers would be set up to regulate in-season supply and market prices of potatoes by grade, size and quality.
The 18-member committee would be appointed by the secretary of agriculture from nominations to be submitted by both producers and dealers.
The value of Pennsylvania farm land declined five per cent between March 1949 and March 1950.
The state agriculture department said the steady decline in Pennsylvania farm cash income is partly responsible for the drop in farm real estate values in the state.
From a record total of $824,011,000 in 1948, farm cash income for the state dropped to $762,414,000 in 1949, a decline of 7.5 per cent.
Compared with pre-war 1935-39 values, Pennsylvania farm real estate last March was reported to be 81 per cent higher. Taking the 1912-14 average as 100, the index for value per acre last March stood at 157, the same as last November. The index reached its peak of 165 in March 1949 and dropped to 159 last July.
The state agriculture department forecasts that Keystone farm real estate values should continue at approximately their present levels, or with only slight declines for the 1950 season. It bases its prediction on an expected leveling off of prices next fall.
Farm income is still declining from 1949 levels, but there appears to be general agreement

Local Forester Is In Boston to Address Women's Society

R. J. Costley, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest is in Boston where he is participating in the annual convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. He has been invited to address the delegates at their annual banquet this evening. His talk will be concerning Forest Service and the role which the 180,000,000 acres in the National Forest system, and their resources, play in the economic and cultural life of the country.

Before his transfer to Pennsylvania, a year ago, Costley was assistant chief of the Division of Wildlife Management in the office of the chief of the Forest Service in Washington, D. C. His early background in the forest service included work throughout the National forests of the west. His last assignment, before duty in the Armed Forces, was that of assistant supervisor of the Teton National Forest in Wyoming. Following the war, as a naval officer, he organized and was the initial chief of the Department of Forestry in the Military Government of Korea.

Warren Meres, Sons of Italy, Suppas Win In Sunset League

Warren Merchants chalked up a 3-1 triumph over Hammond Iron in a closely-contested Sunset Baseball League tilt on Memorial Field last night. All of the runs came in the final frame after the teams had battled to a 0-0 draw for six innings.

Sons of Italy chalked up their fourth Sunset League win in four starts by downing the Conewango Merchants, 3-0, in a five-inning game at the State Hospital field.

Suppa's Studebakers of Youngsville topped Tiona, 8-1, at King Field.

B. Baker, hurler for the Hammond Iron, gave up only two singles, while Ghores, Meres' chucker, yielded four hits, all singles. Much of the final inning was played in the rain, with the ball too wet to handle. The Merchants got three unearned runs in their half of the final frame. Hammonds got a single marker in the bottom half of the seventh, but the rally fell short.

Sons of Italy collected single tallies in the first three innings to insure their win over the Conewango Merchants. Smith, the winning pitcher, had a no-hitter on the fire ball until the fifth when Gray singled to right field.

Ananea, catcher for the Sons of Italy, was credited with the only extra-base blow, a double deep to right center.

The linesproes:

Warren Meres 000 000 3-3 2 0
Hammonds 000 000 1-1 4 2
Batteries: Ghores and Sharp; Baker and Fischer.

Umpires: Rosequist, LeTrent.
Sons of Italy 111 00-3 4 0
Conewango 000 00-0 1 3
Batteries: Smith and Ananea; Labesky and J. Gray.
Umpires: Brady, Massa.

Clay Tennis Court Now Ready for Use

Area tennis enthusiasts today welcomed the news that the public tennis court at the corner of Pine and Hill streets on the West Side is now ready for use.

Work on the clay and dirt court was started last fall, and the finishing touches put on the playing area during the past few weeks. Construction of the court was made possible by generous contributions of money, materials and labor by local business men and civic-minded persons.

The court will be open throughout the day and in the evenings. Those using the court may make donations for its upkeep.

West To Get PIAA Basketball Classic

Harrisburg, June 1.—(P)—Pennsylvania's biggest schoolboy basketball classic is moving back to Pittsburgh for the first time in 16 years.

Edmund C. Wicht, executive director of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, today told a reporter the site of the 1951 Class A tilt depends upon the completion of the new university of Pittsburgh fieldhouse.

"We hope to be able to hold the game in the new gym if it is completed in time," Wicht said. "However, we're also making arrangements to secure the Penn Palstra or convention hall in Philadelphia—just in case."

The fieldhouse is expected to be completed in February.

The tentative date for the class A finals is Saturday, March 31. The Class B championship also will be decided in the west next year on March 30.

Formal Floral Planting is Charming Garden Accent

This view would be welcome from any window.

A garden accent, or focal point, while a necessary factor in good design, need not be impressive, elaborate, or expensive. It should stand out in contrast with its background, yet be in harmony with its surroundings.

Against a shrubby border, a formal paved area, centered with a bird bath, and edged with a border of annuals, will make a charming focal point, especially as the terminus of a view from a window, terrace or porch. It might be large enough for a few garden seats, shaded by a garden umbrella, which would allow the sunshine full access to the flowers.

As in the case with all formal garden arrangements, the simpler the design, the better. The form and color of the flowers will then get full attention. There are many combinations of annual flowers which can be used in such a planting. White, pink and violet are suggested in the illustration. Cosmos could be planted, to be replaced by annuals after they have bloomed.

will grow four to six feet tall, bearing its large pure white single flowers from July until killing frost in the fall. Dwarf white petunias bordering the sides of the paved area will grow in bushes 18 inches high, and they will bloom throughout the summer. Violet alyssum, planted as a ribbon of purple at the base of the white flowers, will remain in bloom long after the early frosts.

For another attractive color planting use Cosmos yellow flare for the background, yellow Lilliput zinnias at the sides, and a yellow dwarf marigold in front. Alyssum Violet Queen would provide a violet base for the yellow flowers and all would flower freely until winter's arrival. By using annuals all summer decorations is assured, and each year the color combination can be changed if desired. For early spring effect tulips and daffodils could be planted, to be replaced by annuals after they have bloomed.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(P)—Seven years ago, during the war, I visited more than 20 war plants in the middle west.

The trip convinced me that American industry has a genius for production but falls short on some things.

There were a great many war-time problems involving workers, such as absenteeism. And the accident rate was high.

A number of times, questions about what was being done to prevent accidents produced only blank looks. One plant safety engineer seemed to think he had solved the problem by posting a sign which said: "Women will wear hair nets around the machines." True, that was one safety device but only one.

That was seven years ago. In 1949—and these are figures from the federal government—15,000 persons were killed in industrial accidents and 79,400 were permanently disabled. Total accidents in 1949 were estimated at 1,570,000. The loss to workers and employers is estimated at around $4,500,000,000 a year.

Still, this was a drop of seven per cent below the accidents in 1948. In April of 1948 President Truman suggested calling a national conference on industrial safety.

A lot of people—from business, labor, government, states, insurance companies, education groups and private safety organizations from 40 states—got to work.

They worked for months to outline a national program to make American industry a safer place in which to work.

Then in March, 1949, President Truman called the national conference here. About 1,000 of the people just mentioned attended.

Mr. Truman said reducing industrial accidents is a job for employers and workers but. He said the state governments had the principle responsibility for making work places safe.

This conference drew up a plan whereby the state governments might get behind the drive. Since last March ten states have held governors' conferences on industrial safety. Eight others expect to hold them this year.

And—starting next Monday and lasting for three days, a second National Safety Conference has been called here to look over what's been done in a year and try to do more.

By law, the labor department—the general chairman of next week's conference will be Secretary of Labor Tobin—has the job of promoting workers' welfare. The department, through its Bureau of Labor Standards, has worked with the states for years in the development of safety programs, safety codes, and training.

at a time when the war-damage is still not repaired, and Europe is still not selling enough abroad to pay its way. For the U. S., it comes when the tremendous national debt is still climbing upward. In Europe Acheson batted nearly a hundred per cent on his plan. Today he will have to sell it to congress, and sell it well, because he must soon ask for another $1,225,000,000 (E) for next year's American contribution to Europe's arms.

It's important to note this: Acheson had no plans before he spoke to congress to suggest any further top-level pow-wows with the Russians. "Appeasement" appears to be out the window. Further American negotiations with the Russians appear to be waiting the day when western diplomats can sit across the table from the gentlemen from Moscow, backed by just as great a military force as the Russians appear to be building.

That is the point at which Acheson now seems to think peace will arrive, and stabilize it is the historical basis for all the old periods of peace Europe has enjoyed.
